Margaret Cho Comedy Act Paramount Theatre

October 18, 2010

Lewd, crude, and hilarious! That pretty much sums up the performance of stand up comedian Margaret Cho at the Paramount Theatre on October 9th. Cho made one of her many stops here in Denver as part of her Cho Dependent Tour, which kicked off in Portland Oregon on August 26. Recently voted off the hit TV show Dancing With The Stars, Cho has embarked on a North American Tour with comedian John Roberts taking the opening act, doing a hilarious female impressions skit using wigs as props, and his openly gay personality to bring it all to life.

Cho who's act is one that is not made for prime time TV. Being openly bi-sexual, and a huge supporter of gay rights, Cho packed the house with a diverse group of gay and straight audience members, who laughed and cheered at the no holds barred material, literally making light of subjects from her parents to her vagina. With an array of music from her Cho Dependent Album, Cho would continue to crack up the crowd with several songs such as "My Puss" where she imitates her mom.

If you are open minded and have the ability to leave the kids at home, Margaret Cho's live stand up comedy is one worth seeing. The Cho Dependent tour continues through Canada in the next few days, with a stop in Quebec on the 22, then Montreal on the 23, before heading back to the US for a stop in Boston on the 28th.
